Friendship is a precious gift..

Friendship is not just about good times

It is about walking in and sitting down

As others walk out.

It doesn't focus on past choices or mistakes

As they shall never over shadow

the good memories we continue to share.

It's about being there

supporting one another

helping to fight battles

aiding in achieving goals

being by one another's side

when sight of your own strengths

are nowhere to be seen.

So, live for today and cherish every moment.
