Life is such a very complicated matter. Just we are so impotent when things happened sometimes...

Something maybe happens.

Something cannot let it happen.

But, it happens in life always!

And it is completely out of our expectations!

All in all, it is just an interlude that has happened to us this time, this life!

Life is such a very complicated matter.

Just we are so impotent when things happen sometimes.

There will be too many interludes happening in our lives.

Love is just an interlude amongst all.
