

Tricky Thing - Life

By AshTrayFiasco

Published on Stories Space on 13 Jan 2015

<https://www.storiesspace.com/stories/poetry/tricky-thing-life-1.aspx>

I walked, I ran, I stumbled, I fell I stood up and followed again Tricky red ribbon of life Led me into deserted lanes Moving on wind, it took me To edges, to moors and dead ends On my way through I met With fairies, demons, foes and friends
They all helped, but I knew I had to tread my path alone
With myself I'd share the joy of chase With myself I'd share fear of unknown I know it'd fly off the cliff of death Still we all follow it to our last breath...