

With Mother... on her day... with love... A poem

By ManofDesire

Published on Stories Space on 08 May 2015

With the love of my heart and soul Happy Mothers Day to the most wonderful woman in the world.

<https://www.storiesspace.com/stories/poetry/with-mother-on-her-day-with.aspx>

With a smile as bright as the golden sun rise you would wake me with love. With the warm hugs of love that held the sweet smell of honeysuckle you warmed my heart. With the soft loving kisses of the boo boos that came along to take the pain away. With the fun times and the sad times that came along. With the ups and the downs though out the years. With the love no other could show you were there. With the love of a mother could only show her child your love never ends. With all the times you were stern and made me do things I did not want to do to make me the man I am today. With the love of my heart and soul Happy Mothers Day to the most wonderful woman in the world.