

You are my everything

By Finallyatpeace

Published on Stories Space on 10 Feb 2014

<https://www.storiesspace.com/stories/poetry/you-are-my-everything.aspx>

We fought the odds From the day we met It was the choice of the gods With no regret Melded together Soul mates from the very first day We've survived even the roughest of weather Nothing could tear us away You still make my heart skip a beat When your hand touches me You make me feel complete And set my soul free Overwhelming is my love for you Falling in love was destiny We know our love is true Sometimes it consumes me You are my everything My one true desire You make my heart sing And put my soul on fire I could never love another Please leave me never My very special lover We will be together forever